

CHIEF MATRON OF GIRLS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL REMOVED; CHARGE HER WITH CRUELTY

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Pennsylvania avenue, scene of many historic pageants, probably never presented a more colorful picture than it did today as 20,000 nobles of the Mystic Shrine marched over its two miles of "burning sands" from the capitol to Washington Circle. As the procession moved through "the garden of Allah" reproduced in front of the White House, it was reviewed by the president, Noble Warren G. Harding, and Imperial Potentate George S. McCandless and his division. This parade, one of the four planned for the forty-ninth annual convention of the Shriners which got under way today, which, it was said, was destined to be the biggest spectacle of the gathering of the Nobles today, and it proved all of that.

The long line of marchers presented a riot of color that for vividness and contrast scarcely could have been surpassed. Only a little less picturesque was the setting with a canopy of red, yellow and green streamers—the Shrine colors—overhead and the National colors blended with these in the decorations of buildings along the route.

Each of the scores of temples in the line had its drill team and with the broad expanse of the avenue cleared of all traffic, there was ample room for the execution of even the most complicated of formations. But with as many bands as there were temples, the march essentially was one of music. Each band apparently sought to out-do its immediate neighbor with a result that the rolling of drums, blaring of brass horns and shrilling piccolos "drowned out

Nearly Succeeded In Being Sent To Electric Chair Wins Plea To Be Sent To Pen

KNOXVILLE, TENN., June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Roy Harris, who said he had attempted to fake himself into the Sing Sing electric chair as the slayer of Joseph B. Elwell, New York turfman and whist expert, asked Federal Judge Hicks yesterday to sentence him to the federal prison, and won his plea.

Harris, after pleading guilty to impersonating a federal agent, said:

"Ever since I was 'so high' I've been so crooked I could not lie straight in bed. I have prayed every night to become straight, but the next morning I would do

Heat Claims Victims In Ohio; Drought And Ice Famine

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Over-night reports from over Ohio showed one person dead and one woman and one man prostrated by the heat wave which has gripped the state for four days, and sent the mercury to near record-breaking temperatures for this time of the year. Three other deaths by drowning were reported in the Ohio, indirectly due to the hot weather.

Today was the fifteenth day without a general rain-fall, according to the local reports of the Ohio Weather Bureau. One city in Ohio reported a temperature of 86 degrees, which is within one degree of the record for this time of the year during the past 38 years. Three cities reported ice shortages as a result of the heat wave.

Tied Girls Hand And Foot; Kept Them In Dungeon

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Mae E. Stannard was summarily removed as chief matron of the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware today by Director of Public Welfare J. E. Harper, because of alleged incompetency, inefficiency, and cruel treatment of girls. Miss Mattie Pangburn, of Ripley, a nurse at the school was placed in charge.

The order of removal cited the following specifications in support of the charges:

Padding or causing to be padded, vouchers of parole of officers in August, September and October, 1922.

Certifying to said vouchers, knowing same to be false and fraudulent and receiving payment thereon.

Transferring girls to the women's reformatory and other institutions in violation of law.

Compromising a case of illegitimacy involving a state ward, accepting $300 without authority of law.

Erecting unnecessary buildings without authority of law and misrepresenting to the public that the same were built without cost to the state.

Exceeding appropriations and holding unpaid invoices from October, 1922, until April, 1923, losing discount thereon.

Cost of running institution, as shown by pay roll, 25 per cent in excess of like period of previous years.

Gagging girls, binding their hands behind their backs, tying their feet together, all at the same time, thereby causing them to be utterly helpless.

Using language unbecoming an officer, calling girls vile and vicious names, such as thief, prostitute, liar and fool in the presence of officers and other girl inmates.

Placing girls in a dungeon in the basement of the amusement hall in a dark, damp room, keeping them for days and nights in said dungeon without a bed in which to sleep and feeding them on bread and water.

Endangering the lives of girls by locking them in their sleeping rooms with pinlocks.

Accompanying the order of dismissal was a copy of charges containing sixteen specific allegations, made by an employee of the school to Director Harper on April 27. The employee's name was not disclosed. Among the charges were the following:

Establishing a prison cottage where girls were kept for as many as 46 days at a time where they were fed on bread and water part of the time and compelled to sleep on the floor with only a blanket.

Shaving girls' heads and compelling them to carry heavy loads of stone and other materials long distances as punishment.

Thorough treatment of Mary Householder caused her to become mentally deranged and she had to be transferred to a hospital for the insane.

It was charged that the Householder girl was compelled to wheel file in a heavy wheelbarrow a long distance across a soft field until she became so exhausted that she fell, and that a matron at the school who assisted the girl, was discharged for doing so.

Permitting officers to entertain in their cottages and having meals served to said men with the consent and knowledge of the cottage matron.

Compelling officers to sign papers in blank without knowing what was to be written on them.

Dismissing seven employees, among them the art teacher, Mrs. Margaret Bryan, without cause and failing to comply with the civil service laws.

Compelling girls to go barefoot, wear tickling goods dresses and build cement walks.

The charges also declare that Mrs. Stannard has no discipline over employees and inmates and eltes that she is not a citizen of the state.

Mrs. Stannard came to the institution from Detroit about a year ago.

The complaint declares that never in the history of the school has "such deplorable conditions existed in the morale and discipline of the school."

Violent Row On In G. O. P.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1923 By The Portsmouth Times)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—If one is to accept surface impressions as fact, there is a violent row inside the Republican party which may thwart the re-election of President Harding.

But surface impressions are inaccurate. Chairman John T. Adams of the Republican national committee, has not broken with President Harding. Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the committee, has not indicated his intention of resigning this summer. And so far as Mr. Harding is concerned he has not indicated to anyone that he is dissatisfied with the course of Chairman Adams or that he wants the resignation of either Mr. Adams or Mr. Upham.

So much for the facts. But it would be camouflaging the truth to

Refused To Answer

LONDON, June 5.—(By the United Press)—Premier Stanley Baldwin refused to answer questions on the British attitude on the United States liquor ruling during interpellations in the house of commons today. This is an unusual procedure as the government usually answers questions of parliamentarians unless it can plead necessity for secrecy.

Feeble Minded On Increase

CLEVELAND.—Dr. E. J. Emerick, superintendent of state institutions for feeble-minded at Columbus and Orient, Ohio, said in an address Ohio should have two new institutions to care for increasing population of feeble minded.

This picture spikes the rumor that Wilhelm, ex-kaiser of Germany and his bride have separated. It was taken at Wilhelm and Princess Hermine strolled through the streets of Dorn after her return from a six-weeks visit to her former home in Silesia. This is the second time they have been together on the streets of Dorn since their wedding last November. Note that Wilhelm walks on the inside, swinging his cane with his good arm.

Cleveland Reported Two Dead

Stephen Lazar, of Cleveland. Herbert Sidel, of Jackson Center. Arthur May, of North Lima. B. J. Stewart, was prostrated by the heat at Willoughby, and died a few hours later.

Mrs. Nellie Linker, of Elmore, was overcome by the heat at Toledo, and Frank Cornell succumbed on the streets of Cleveland.

Columbus had a maximum temperature yesterday of 86 degrees. Findlay, 94; Cleveland, 88, and Youngstown, 93. At Tiffin yesterday half of for a few minutes, but the storm had no sooner subsided than the thermometer rose to 92 degrees.

On account of the extreme hot weather the Youngstown Board of Education has ordered school sessions in all school houses to open at 8:00 a. m. instead of 9:00. T. J. West, state federal crop agricultural statistician in a statement declared that rain was needed in order that the crops might not be damaged by the prolonged drought. H. J. Rockwood, Cleveland commissioner of health, issued two health warnings. One was to picnic parties to boil all water before drinking it and the other to guard against dogs that might be affected by the hot weather. It was reported six children were bitten by dogs in Cleveland yesterday.

$400,000 Fire In Canton

CANTON, O., June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Fire of unknown origin which was discovered shortly after five o'clock this morning, destroyed the greater part of the Canton Hardware Company, a four-story brick structure, with a loss estimated by Fire Chief Mesnar at between $250,000 and $400,000. The fire for a time threatened to destroy an entire business block, but was brought under control at 10:30 p.m.

A dozen regular firemen and volunteers were cut by falling glass and blistered by the intense heat.

Four persons were injured, two seriously, when a truck which was speeding to the scene of the fire, crashed into a telephone pole in turning out to avoid collision with another car. Miss Bessie Snyder, 25, of Edinburg, a northern suburb, and Clements Wagner, 28, of Edinburg, of the truck, are in Mercy Hospital in a critical condition. Miss Snyder's chest was crushed and her jaw broken. Wagner suffered internal injuries.

French Ship Crews Threaten To Strike Unless Given Wine In American Ports

PARIS, June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The threat of stokers and firemen on French steamers to strike unless assured they will receive their usual daily allowance of wine when in New York harbor, has raised an issue that probably will be made the subject of diplomatic correspondence with Washington.

Meanwhile, steamship officials intimate that the LaFayette, sailing from Havre on Saturday, and other French ships, will be supplied with the usual stocks of beverage liquor for the men as provided by law.

The ministries of merchant marine which have been studying closely the liquor ruling of the United States supreme court make the point that French ships are French territory and are therefore subject to French law.

Their views have been incorporated into a note that will be turned over to Premier Poincare for transmission to Washington. It is understood the communication will insist that French seamen retain their title to two litres of wine daily.

The French line has not yet made known its final policy with respect to United States territorial ban on liquor. The LaFayette would be the first steamer affected by the threatened strike of stokers and firemen.

Donahay Urges Vote On Taft Tax Bill

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Governor Donahay today asked the Ohio Association of real estate boards to "proceed vigorously" in the movement for a referendum on the Taft taxation bill, and pledged himself to assist the movement in "every manner I can."

The association will meet here this afternoon to reach a final decision as to whether a referendum shall be called.

In a letter addressed to John E. McCrehen, president of the Association of Real Estate Boards, Governor Donahay declared that a conservative estimate of $15,000,000 immediate increase in taxes would result if the Taft bill were permitted to become a law. This advance in taxes, he asserted, would be borne mainly by real estate. The governor also declared that a conservative estimate of $15,000,000 immediate increase in taxes would result if the Taft bill were permitted to become a law. This advance in taxes, he asserted, would

Burn Chief's Son To Appease Rain Goddess

SALISBURY, SOUTHERN RHODESIA, June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Human sacrifice still is practiced in some parts of the Old World, it was shown recently when six members of a local tribe were sentenced to death for burning a young man named Manduza in order to appease the rain goddess.

Rhodesia has been suffering from a severe drought and some of the native tribes ascribed it to the wrath of the goddess, who they believed had been violated. Inquiry by the tribe chief led them to believe that his son was guilty of having assaulted the goddess and he thereupon ordered his incarceration.

The rain goddess, a young and handsome girl, did not testify against him. Defense counsel commented on the high motives which led the chief to sacrifice his son for rain, and referred to parallel cases in Hebraic and Semitic history.

Rain fell soon after Manduza was burned alive.

CLEVELAND, O., June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Ways and means to increase facilities for apprentices to learn the brick-laying trade were discussed at a conference held under the auspices of the common brick manufacturers' association of America here today.

The tremendous increase in the use of brick during the last three years has resulted in shortage of brick layers, according to Ralph P. Stoddard, secretary of the association. He predicted that six billion brick would be laid in the United States this year.

Beer Not Served In Hotels

Americans Dissatisfied Because They Can't Get It

WEISBADEN, GERMANY, June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The Wurttemberg and the Muenchen do not flow in the fashionable watering places along the Rhine. Great is the disappointment to some of the Americans making their first visit to the Rhineland hotels.

It is a hardship to reach the fashionable German resorts since the French extended their occupation and German railway men refused to maintain the lines which serve the French invaders. But the greatest blow is when Americans finally reach the exclusive hotels and discover they cannot have beer.

"Germany without beer is like 'Romeo and Juliet' without Juliet," one American said when told some-where that he could not have beer with his luncheon. "I came here to get her and win her, but they want to feed me hot birds and cold bottles."

Only the second class hotels and beer restaurants along the Rhine will supply their visitors with beer. The more exclusive places do not cater to anything but wine trade. Most of them are interested in vineyards and their sale of wine is their greatest source of profit. They do not want their tables taken by parties which will linger for hours over an inexpensive meal served with a stein of beer.

French wines of all sorts and all kinds of French liquor are not barred from German hotels and restaurants. German red wines find little favor with visitors. In fact Germans do not drink them to any considerable

"THE DETECTIVE"

George Wurster Inspects One Of Three "Better Homes Week" Homes; Buys It

After Mr. and Mrs. George Wurster visited W. W. Bauer's handsome home, 922 Second street, one of the three "Better Homes Week" homes, Monday night they lost no time in buying it, so satisfied were they with the property.

While Mrs. Wurster was admiring the beautiful furniture and draperies in the home along with many other visitors, Mr. Wurster and Mr. Bauer had to seek the roomy basement, where they could transact business. Mr. Bauer stated his price and Mr. Wurster accepted it and the deal was closed today, possession to be given just as soon as Better Homes Week is concluded. Mr. Wurster, who is the well-known druggist, has since his marriage been living on Court street.

"I'll tell you Better Homes Week is a success as it resulted in me buying a real home," Mr. Wurster said Tuesday.

Auto Skids; Turns Over

Louis Davis, of Otway, who sustained a severe scalp wound on the left side of his head, and Ralph Newman, of Lombardville, had narrow escapes from more serious injury this morning when Davis' new Ford touring car turned over on Galena pike near Old Town church.

The men were enroute to their jobs in Portsmouth. The two machines were just ahead of Davis. Just as he turned to the left to go ahead of the machine just in front of him, the man in the car ahead also decided to go around the machine leading the way. To avoid crashing into the second wa-chine Davis applied the brakes quickly and caused his machine to skid on the wet paving. The car turned clear around and then turned over on one side. Newman escaped with slight bruises but Davis received a cut on the head from glass from the broken windshield.

He was brought to Portsmouth by Joe King of Market street and was treated at Schirman hospital where several stitches were taken in the scalp wound. Later he returned to the scene of the accident and had his machine removed to a garage for repairs. The car was badly damaged.

Boren Met Instant Death When He Fell Under Wagon

Frank Boren, of Sciotoville, is ago by the accidental death of his home from Hartington, Neb., where he was called more than a week ago by the accidental death of his son, Terrance Boren, who was instantly killed when he lost his balance and fell under a wagon while hauling gravel on the state highway near his home. The father was accompanied home by his son, Arthur Boren, of Portland, Oregon, and he will visit relatives at Sciotoville and vicinity for several weeks.

The victim of the distressing accident was a native of Sciotoville where he was born Sept. 30, 1887. Consequently he was nearly thirty-six years of age. He grew to manhood there and went west after attaining his majority and for a number of years was employed at Omaha by the Western Bridge and Construction Company. In 1914 he married Miss Carrie Gates of Waterloo, Ia., and after a wedding trip to Ohio the couple returned to Hartington where Mr. Boren secured a position with Cedar county as foreman in charge of county bridge and road work, which position he held at the time of his tragic death. Two small children besides the widow and his parents survive in addition to two brothers and a sister.

Are You A Keen Observer? Here Is Chance To Win Real Prizes During "Better Homes Week"

How observing are you? Are you willing to put yourself to a test, providing as a reward for your powers of observation you are likely to win a handsome prize? Possibly you have never attempted any plan that would prove how observing you really are.

Thanks to the liberality of the furniture dealers in Portsmouth, under whose direction "Home Beautiful" Week is being observed, a plan has been evolved to give the women of Portsmouth, a chance to prove their powers of observation.

Incidentally the furniture men, believing the women of this city are interested in the proper furnishing of homes, have decided to give a handsome prize to the one who will write the best article on which of the three houses being used for "Home Beautiful" week is the most homelike and livable home. This article is to be not longer than 750 words and the merits of the paper will be judged by Mrs. William H. Schwartz, president of the Woman's City Club; Mrs. W. A. Quinn, president of the Women's Literary Club and Mrs. James Bannan. To the women, over 15 years of age, writing the contest articles will be given a handsome fire-side chair now on display in the Stockham home, Kinney's Lane.

Realizing that there are many who might not wish to compete for this prize, the furniture men have decided to give three beautiful and costly prizes to the persons counting the correct or nearest correct number of articles in the three homes being used for "Home Beautiful" week, namely the Wertz house, 1099 Twelfth street, Bauer house, 922 Second street, and the Stockham home, 1513 Kinney's Lane. To win one of these three prizes it will be necessary for one to visit all three houses and count therein the number of articles in the home. To the one observing the nearest number of correct articles will be given a Walnut tea table, now on display in the Bauer house. Second street; the second nearest correct will be presented with a console table mirror, displayed at the Wertz house. To the third will be given a junior lamp, displayed at the Stockham home, Kinney's Lane. The three women, named above, will judge the papers in this contest also and all answers and all articles must be in the hands of the "Home Beautiful" editor, care of the Sun-Times by not later than Friday afternoon June 15, at 2 o'clock. While the judges will determine the selection of the winners by the correctness of answers, nevertheless in case of ties they will be influenced by the neatness of the papers giving the answers.

The furniture men are elated at the way Portsmouth people are lining up behind "Home Beautiful" week, but in order to add a little stimulus, they have hit upon the above plan. To compete for the prizes, it should be borne in mind that no one can win more than one prize and all contestants must be women 15 years of age or more. No one connected with the Sun-Times or with the furniture houses will be eligible to compete in this contest, and any papers or answers received therefrom will be discarded by the judges.

It should be known that the prizes offered for the powers of observation as well as the powers of description are high-class in every sense of the word and are well worth striving for. Anyone should be able to count the number of articles in the three houses, and those wishing to compete will be recorded every possible opportunity to pass through the three houses and observe the furnishings and tabulate the articles that they might arrive at an intelligent conclusion. One is privileged to visit the houses as often as she wishes—but only one answer from each person will be allowed by the judges.

The best descriptive article, will be published in the Sunday issue of the Sun-Times on June 17, or at the earliest date possible. That depending entirely on the report of the judges. However, there is hardly a question but the persons winning the observation contest will be named shortly after the judges meet and the winners named will positively be announced on Sunday June 17.

The furniture men are to be congratulated upon their progressiveness and there is no question but the giving of the handsome prizes will add considerable zest to "Home Beautiful" week.

"Justice Alone Entitles Fraternal Organizations To Survive" - Harding

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Justice alone entitles fraternal organizations to survive and "secret fraternity" is one thing, secret conspiracy is another, President Harding said today in an address at the Imperial Council of the Mystic Shrine.

"I like the highly purposed fraternity because it is our assurance against menacing organizations," the president said. "In the very naturalness of association, men band together for mischief, to exert misguided zeal, to vent unreasoning malice, to undermine our institutions."

"This isn't fraternity, this is conspiracy. This isn't associated uplift, it is organized destruction. This is not brotherhood, it is the discord of disloyalty and a danger to the republic. But so long as twenty millions of Americans are teaching loyalty to the flag, the cherishment of our inherited institutions and due regard for constitutional authority and the love of liberty under the law, we may be assured the future is secure."

Mr. Harding addressed the council as a brother Shriner after he had reviewed the annual Shrine parade from a stand in front of the White House.

Text Of Address

His address follows in full: "It is a great pleasure to participate in this opening session of the council. It need not be said that I cordially join in the words of welcome and hearty greetings already uttered."

"I like the atmosphere of fraternity. I rejoice in the knowledge that I am addressing a body where every heart-beat is loyal American, where every impulse is American, where every commitment and consecration are to the republic and its free institutions."

"If the lessons taught were heeded, the obligations owed were assumed, if the relationships urged were adopted, men would be infinitely better in their human relationships."

"Fraternalism must be just, if it is to survive. And they must be just to appeal to men in their fellow relationships. Secret fraternity is one thing, secret conspiracy is quite another. The meeting today is in ennobled fraternity."

"One must recognize that fraternity has its abuses. Abused fraternity is no more creditable than the pretense which teaches how beautifully worth-while is honest religion. But fraternity deals with realities and cures its own abuses."

Refers To Selfish Motives

"The abuse I had in mind is the imposition upon fraternal relationship to promote selfish ends. Perhaps a recital of a home town experience will illustrate my point. There came to our town two brothers to engage in a mercantile enterprise. One joined the Methodist church and the other the Presbyterian. Still business failed to move with a whirl. Then one joined the Masons and the other the Knights of Pythias. They picked out the churches with the largest congregations and the fraternities with the largest membership. Some local observer wondered why these divergent inclinations in two brothers, and there was comment about it. Here was fraternity being played for selfish ends. We had another fraternity, rare in kind and transitory in existence which dealt with men's idiosyncrasies and foibles and imperfections. It was a fraternal play ground which sometimes saw rough play and performed many a surgery in character. So the lure of membership in the ancient and honorable Order of Hymen was held out to the joining merchants and they fell for it. The fee was very modest and the treasurer spent all the funds at each meeting of the order but the initiation was imposing, revealing and never forgotten."

Heads Some Things

"When the two merchants came to receive their degree, their first revelation came to them while locked in a little six-by-eight ante-chamber, between which and the lodge room there was a partition only eight feet high with a great open space above there which could be heard all that was said among the Hymenists in solemn session. The eligibility and desirability of the candidates were discussed for an hour or more. Alas, the candidates heard every word. Their joining proclivity was emphasized and I suspect objections were urged that were not wholly justified. In a bit of cheating which must have been forgiven ere this, the ministers of the two churches were imperceptibly, though the impostors sometimes fell short of clerical forms of speech. The Hymenists, with rare facility turned taunters, and did a wonderful job of it."

As Other Appraised Them

Manifestations of respectness in the ante-room were ignored and after the alleged pastors had retired to their homes, the degree was given and conferred without stint. All went well until the next day when the two brothers started out to interview the ministers who had spoken. It was difficult for the innocent ministers to understand but the two joiners soon came to understand and the Hymenists lost two members. The town lost its new mercantile establishment within a week, and two strangers who donned the cloak of fraternity for commercial gain saw themselves as others appraised them.

"There is an honest and righteous, true fraternal life in America, it embraces millions of our men and women and a hundred fraternal bodies extend their influence to more than a third of American homes and make ours a better republic for their influence."

Fraternity Inherent In Man

"Fraternity is inherent in man, it is manifest in hearts of the fields and the birds in the air. It is our obligation to make the most of it for human betterment. It more than cures our daily life and ministers thousands daily charities and fraternal reliefs. In the lodge room there is moulded what becomes public opinion and contributes to the moving forces of developing civilization."

"It matters not what is said of human selfishness, it matters not what seeming lack of sympathy and fellowship is sometimes encountered, every man worth while has in him the yearning to be worth while, to do that which gives him pride to the activities of human brotherhood. It is the business of organization fraternalism to turn these natural traits to highest helpfulness. In every worthy order the principles of civil and religious liberty, justice and equality are taught in lecture and obligation. A respect for the rights of others, the very essence of fraternity, is stressed everywhere until the rule of justice is the mantle of righteousness, fraternal relationship."

"I wish somehow we could have fraternity among nations, as it is taught in America among men. I don't mean simply the pass word with its appealing mystery to our friends, but rather the aspect of the rights of others and ideals of brotherhood recited in the Golden Rule, and the righteous fellow-relationship which every man knows his God approves. Under such a reign of fraternity, cruel human warfare will never come again."

"I like the highly purposed fraternity, because it is our assurance against menacing organization. In the very naturalness of association men band together for mischief to exert misguided zeal, to vent unreasoning malice, to undermine our institutions. This isn't fraternity, this is conspiracy. This isn't associated uplift, it is organized destruction. This is not brotherhood, it is the discord of disloyalty and a danger to the republic. But so long as twenty millions of Americans are teaching loyalty to the flag, the cherishment of our inherited institutions and due regard for constitutional authority and the love of liberty under the law, we may be assured the future is secure."

"There is no misconstruing the aims and purposes of our loftier American fraternalism. For the great brotherhood there is the patriotic appraisal of the heritage of the republic. Here is representative democracy, wrought in sacrifice and toil, amid liberty's highest aspirations and no force or violence, no alien purpose, no social madness shall be permitted to destroy it."

"I think I know the very soul of Masonry, out of which the Shrine has come to lighten our burdens and add cheer to our daily lives. There is both quantity and quality in the nobility of the Shrine. It is more than a mere Masonic play ground. Conceived in cheer, the order hungered for more than play, though we need more of play in our daily lives. "It craved to be helpful and it is aglow in noble achievement. Its initiates have been schooled in patriotism and welcomed new commitments to home and country. I like to think there is special significance that this year the imperial council has come to Washington bringing the Shrine to the monumental shrine of the great father of the nation, to pledge afresh love for the republic, loyalty to its institutions and an exalted brotherhood for those who consecrate life and sacred honor to its keeping."

Negro Raises Window In Municipal Court; Leaps To Ground, Escapes

Charles Johnson, alias Kid Fain, who was tried in Municipal court yesterday afternoon on a charge of concealing a cape stolen from The Bragdon Dry Goods store, later made his escape and is still at large.

Johnson's case had been partially heard and continued for further investigation and he was in the witness room awaiting to be called to testify in another case when he asked the officer to go to another room in the rear of the clerk's office on the second floor. The request was granted and after waiting several minutes for Johnson to return an investigation was started which resulted in the discovery that the prisoner had removed a window from the lavatory and leaped to the ground. A vigorous search was instituted but the fugitive ended the officers and probably fled the city last night under cover of darkness. Johnson admitted in court that he was a professional gambler and he is regarded as a bad actor by local officers. He has been arrested here several times for larceny.

ADMITS HE OPERATE D STILL AT $5 PER DAY; DODDS IS SENT TO JAIL

Admitting guilt under an indictment charging him with operating a still, Tracer Dodds, Mt. Joy young man, was sentenced to two months in the Hamilton county jail by Judge Hickeloper in the United States District court at Cincinnati Monday.

Dodds told the court that he operated the big still owned by Ernest Park on a salary of $5 a day. The still in question was captured by prohibition officers on Long Run and Park was subsequently indicted and sentenced to spend 18 months in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

TIPTON PAYS RENT AND COSTS

Recently when the case of Elkins Tipton vs. Arthur Cochran was heard in Squire Byron Jones' court, Porter township, the decision was in favor of Tipton. The case grew out of a realty deal whereby Cochran sold his house at 604 Glenwood avenue to Tipton. Mrs. Laura Simms who lived in the house had paid her month's rent in advance and claimed Cochran was to refund her $10 when she had to move before her month was up. This she claimed Cochran refused to do, Tipton paying her the said amount. Tipton also asked that a light fixture taken from the house by Cochran be replaced. The fixture was awarded Tipton and it was recovered by an officer. The decision resulted in Cochran having to pay Tipton the $19 rent he refunded Mrs. Simms and the costs in the case the total amount being $40.80.

Wickerham Made Preliminary Surveys

When the Butler, Pa., city council undertook the problem of installing a sewage disposal plant and enlarging the sewerage system of the city to meet requirements of the present population, as well as meet the needs of the community for the next fifty years, the services of Philip S. Wickerham, consulting engineer, formerly of Portsmouth, were secured to make the preliminary surveys and estimates and supervise the work.

Mr. Wickerham went to Butler in February and he has just completed his preliminary work and prepared a detailed report which has been submitted to the City Engineer and to the mayor and the city council of Butler.

The city voted a bond issue of $400,000 at the November election of 1922, for the purpose of making the improvement.

The cases of Ecom Wiley, charged with assault with intent to wound, and his brother, Alphonso Wiley, charged with pointing firearms, were partially heard by Squire George S. Morgan Monday and then continued for further evidence.

The charge against the brothers, who are farmers on Long Run, came as an aftermath of an altercation with George Bourne and Virgil Adams last Saturday. It was claimed that the Wileys precipitated the trouble by an unwarranted search of the home of the complainants, who live in a house owned by the defendants.

The hearing will be concluded Friday. Attorney T. C. Beatty appeared for the complainants and Attorney Walter L. Dickey for the accused.

Local Paper Hanger Can Now Take Care of His Work; Gives Ka-di-ok Credit for His Improved Condition.

After having suffered for two and a half years with stomach and kidney trouble, doctoring all through that period, and being unable to successfully carry on his work as a paper hanger, Mr. George Ohlen, residing at 388 Lechner Avenue, Columbus, now declares that he has entirely recovered from his stomach ailment, and that his general condition has improved wonderfully, through taking Ka-di-ok.

In his signed statement, he says: "For about two and a half years I suffered almost constantly with my stomach. My back hurt me also. I was unable to eat, and what food I did put into my stomach caused me such misery that I almost dreaded to sit down to a dining table. During all this time I tried a number of remedies, but did not seem to show any improvement. Several weeks ago I read of a friend of mine, who was suffering from similar troubles to my own, had been relieved by taking Ka-di-ok, and I purchased a bottle and began taking it. Improvement in my condition was noticed in several days and I have continued my treatment up to the present time. Today I can eat any kind of food my appetite craves and enjoy it to the fullest extent. The pains have entirely left my stomach, and I am no longer bothered with my kidneys. I am glad of this from the fact that I am a paper hanger by trade, and this is my busy season. I am able to work every day, where last year I could hardly get on a step ladder and labored under the most distressing conditions. This is the first time during the past three years that I have been able to take care of my work."

be borne mainly by real estate. The governor also declared that it would be impossible to estimate at this time the increases in taxes that would result by permitting all interest and sinking fund levies in the future to be placed outside the limitations provided by the measure.

The governor also condemned provisions of the bill which permit local taxing authorities to make levies without a vote of the people. "I do not care how high the people of any community will vote their tax rates so long as it is done by a vote of the majority of the electors. The trouble with the Taft bill is that it automatically gives the tax spenders in all villages and cities the right to boost rates without the protective security of any expression from the tax payers themselves."

"I am writing to voice the hope that your organization will decide to initiate a referendum. By retaining the measure I did what I could at the time to prevent it becoming a law. I was pleased to hear of your referendum movement after it was passed over the veto by the legislature. It requires organized effort to submit a legislative proposal to a popular referendum. Some organizations had to take the initiative. Yours has done so. I trust you will proceed vigorously with the movement and if you do, you hereby have my pledge to assist you in every manner I can."

Mrs. Clara Farnham Neilson, has returned to her home in Cleveland after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Carrie B. Farnham, of 1125 Third Street.

The members of the Woman's City Club held the last meeting of the season on Monday afternoon at the K. of P. hall and despite the hot weather a goodly number of members were present. There were also several visitors from various other clubs in the city.

The president, Mrs. William H. Schwartz, presided and after the reading of the secretary's report by Mrs. Frank C. Miller and the treasurer's report by Miss M. Estelle Welch, Mrs. Schwartz announced that plans were being made to have Mr. and Mrs. Otagawa, Japanese entertainers, give a concert in this city about the middle of next January. It was also announced that the club had booked Judge Florence Allen of the Ohio Supreme Court, and Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, a sister of the late Theodore Roosevelt, to give lectures here during the next season. Mrs. Lillian Cole Bethel is also booked for a series of afternoon lectures on Parliamentary Law, the middle of January.

After the business was disposed of, Mrs. Alma Foster Fisher of Huntington, W. Va., delighted those present with a group of piano selections. Mrs. Fisher is a former resident of this city and a pianist of exceptional ability and her numbers were very much enjoyed and appreciated.

A delightfully interesting feature of the meeting was the report of the twenty-seventh annual convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs which was held at the Ft. Steuben Hotel, in Steubenville, May 21-25th and given in a most interesting and entertaining manner by the club delegates, Mrs. Cornelia B. Treutbart. The report was very comprehensive and covered every phase of the convention, showing that the local delegates were right on the job at all times and at all meetings. Both business and social, during the time the convention was in session. She told in a very clever and entertaining manner about the work of the various clubs throughout the state, giving a short resume of all the reports and speakers at the meetings.

The committee in charge of yesterday's meeting included: Mrs. Alan N. Jordan, Mrs. A. W. Wheelstone, Miss Nell Stanton and Miss Mary K. Reed.

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—Governor Donahey and Attorney General Crabbe will be asked to explain their action of last week when they recommended that a Portsmouth chiropractor, serving a sentence in the Scioto county jail for violation of the state medical laws be permitted to treat a child who had been his patient before his incarceration.

Decision to ask for the explanation was made last night at a meeting of the Columbus Academy of Medicine.

The Academy, in directing that a letter be written to the officials asking information concerning the incident, showed no tendency to condemn them. The members sought, rather, to hear the official version of the case before taking definite action.

The little girl, who is now receiving treatment from one of the imprisoned chiropractors is Virginia Carr, daughter of J. H. Carr, of Wheelersburg. The treatments at the jail were made possible by the recommendation of Governor Donahey and Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, Friday afternoon after Mr. Carr and an attorney had called on the governor and laid their case before him. Mr. Carr stated that his daughter became afflicted last August and lost complete use of her limbs. The attending physician, according to the story told the governor by the father, diagnosed the case as resultant from scarlet fever and placed the limbs of the girl in a plaster cast. In all, the father said, four casts were placed on the girl, and later on braces were resorted to. The father stated that he despaired of the girl's life after taking the child to four more physicians and two bone and joint specialists in Columbus. He stated that two of the specialists advised an operation while physicians claimed there was no hope for the little girl as she had in their estimation developed tuberculosis of the bone.

He told the governor and later on the attorney general, that on March 20th of this year, he took the girl to a local chiropractor and that after seventeen adjustments the braces were taken off the child and she was now recovering the use of her limbs. He was sanguine the child would soon be able to walk and was on the road to recovery, if allowed to continue the adjustments.

What Co-operation Has Done

Little more than half a century ago, Gustavus F. Swift borrowed $20 from his father and started in the packing business.

Hard work on his part and on the part of the associates whom he presently gathered about him caused the business to grow.

When first incorporated, Swift & Company had six shareholders. The nation was growing and needed meat, and the young company grew also. As more money was needed the business was enlarged by enlisting the co-operation of more shareholders.

The first little plant at Barnstable, Mass., has given way to 23 modern packing plants strategically located. More than 400 branch houses and 600 car routes distribute the meat carried in more than 6,000 refrigerator cars.

Today Swift & Company's service in meat to retailers here and abroad represents the effort of nearly 100,000 people co-operating with their savings or daily toil.

More than 45,000 men and women have co-operated with us by investing their money in shares of Swift & Company.

Nearly 50,000 men and women who work in these offices, plants and branch houses—16,000 of whom also are shareholders—are giving us their co-operation in building the business. They take a just pride in the promptness and precision of its service and in the uniformity and high quality of its products. Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon, "Silverleaf" Brand Pure Lard, Premium Frankfurts and other Swift products are symbols of their hearty co-operation and of their belief in the Company.

Put a Stop to All Under-arm Perspiration

Nearly every woman is troubled at times by excessive perspiration under the arms. While it is really necessary to use some method of combating this insidious foe, be careful not to use commercial preparations that contain harsh astringents or powerful chemicals. Such preparations often ruin the clothing and are sometimes harmful to the skin.

Dainty women have found that the best thing to use is Nul, a new discovery of a famous Chicago laboratory. Nul is absolutely pure and is guaranteed to be harmless to both skin and clothing. As a matter of fact, it leaves the most sensitive skin, soft, cool, smooth and white, no matter how often it is used.

It destroys every trace of perspiration moisture and odor and leaves the skin feeling sweet, clean and dry. It dries so quickly you can use it whenever you want to—on a moment's notice, if necessary. No after treatments are necessary because Nul contains its own soothing cream and dainty tale.

You can get Nul at any drug store. It is very inexpensive and a few ounces will last for months. If you want to put an end to all perspiration troubles, be sure your druggist gives you Nul. — Advertisement.

Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets will hold their perfect style lines until thoroughly worn out—most women discard their older Rengo Belt garments only when the styles change.

Have you youth in your heart? It can be in your figure, too. The Rengo Belt Reducing Corset imparts that look of suppleness, of buoyance, even though your figure be mature. An attractive figure is not a matter of size—it is a matter of correct proportions. Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets, thru proper proportioning give the wearer an appearance of slenderness.

Age holds no tremors for the woman who moulds her figure with a Rengo Belt Reducing Corset. She is assured that she will always retain her graceful figure and her dignity of carriage.

The long wearing qualities of Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets earn for them the enviable reputation of "The most economical reducing corsets ever devised for women of stout and medium build."

the noise of controversy. Unfortunately the Democratic national committee isn't letting the opportunity go by to poke fun at the Republicans and prevent them from getting together.

The Adams plan is a simple one. He sees the Republican party divided over President Harding's proposal for a world court. He is for Harding 100 per cent, and fears that a divided party means a troublesome convention. Taking his cue from the president's New York speech in which he conceded that he had no idea of making the world court a paramount issue, Mr. Adams has started out, to preserve harmony by making the world court a secondary matter. All Republicans can agree on that kind of strategy a lot faster than on the world court itself.

Mr. Adams' reasons that the essential needs of the hour is a united party, also Mr. Harding's chances of nomination, to say nothing of the final campaign itself, are adversely affected. The way out which he suggests is to put domestic issues in front. His strategy thus far has encountered no disapproval from the White House, as his relations there are as cordial as ever. Mr. Harding is being urged to soft pedal the world court idea on his western trip. Thus far it is understood he has planned only one speech on the subject. The effort to quiet him on that subject has been indirect, but apparently successful though the advocates of harmony would be even better satisfied if he forgot about it altogether.

Here is their line of thought: The world court is not a burning question. No economic problems hang in the balance as a result of it, no harm will be done by delay. America has no law suits before the world court, the expenses of the court are being paid by the participating nations and are trivial indeed in amount, and finally, the election of judges by the league of nations council and assembly has been accomplished without the aid of America in the past and there may not be vacancies or elections for eight or nine years. So why bother about it now and wreck the chances of Mr. Harding's election.

In all sincerity, the friends of Mr. Harding, including Chairman Adams, take that viewpoint. They see no objection to a resumption of the controversy after the 1924 election, for instance, as a delay of a year or so will give better opportunity for study of the whole question.

All would be serene if the Democrats could be persuaded to adopt the strategy of the Republican national committee. But Democratic headquarters is not a bit more considerate of Mr. Harding and Mr. Adams' troubles than was Republican headquarters when Woodrow Wilson was wrestling with a million and one embarrassing situations.

The strategy of the Republican national committee may succeed for a few months, until congress reconvenes but then the Democrats in the senate will see to it naturally that the world court proposal is not sidetracked but kept in a primary instead of a secondary place. If they succeed in forcing Mr. Harding to an acknowledgment of indefinite delay, that will make political capital out of it and change him with surrender to a minority in his party. It is early to say what will happen but there is enough trouble wrapped up in the world court controversy to keep the Senate talking about little else next Autumn and winter and enough danger in it politically for Mr. Harding to bring about opposition at the National convention. Harmony still prevails in republican headquarters—that's the fact today but there's no telling how long it will last.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—We are two Blue-Field, W. Va. girls and would like to ask for advice about smoking cigarettes. We are engaged to be married soon and our sweethearts don't approve of our smoking cigarettes, but we don't see any harm in smoking with a bunch of girls. Please give us your advice.

DOROTHY AND NANCY.
Better take the advice of your sweethearts and quit smoking. While you may not think there is any harm in it, practically every one else thinks that it makes a girl appear common and unattractive. Personally I think it very unattractive, to say the least.

Dear Dolly—What do you think of a man who will call on a girl week in and week out for six solid years, and then never pop the question. Just what is your opinion of a man like that? If he means business why doesn't he say so, and if he doesn't mean business why doesn't he quit hanging around, and give the girl a chance to get someone else before it is too late and she has to climb up on the shelf. I think she is up a step or two on the ladder now and if he keeps hanging on she will soon be at the top. Every month that he comes to see her he is lessening her chance of getting another man. Now Dolly, what do you think can be the matter with him. It is not a question of money as he is well fixed financially, and one is as good as the other, so there is no trouble there or anywhere else that anyone knows of. Just what do you think is the matter with him.

INTERESTED FRIEND.
I think maybe the cat's got his tongue, or else he is tongue-tied. You might give him a pencil and paper the next time he comes or suggest that he pop the question by letter or radio if he is too bashful to do it any other way.

Miss Dolly Wise—Please tell me in tonight's paper the address of the Home Folks Magazine, as I got mine.

We Admit It— This is A Comfort Shoe

It is often difficult to interest women in comfort shoes, because they know from experience that a shoe made especially for ease is likely to be very unlovely to look at. They never suspect Modese as a comfort shoe until we tell them.

Modese is a J. & T. Cousins Shoe designed on true comfort principles, but made in the finer materials and by the more painstaking methods used for seventy-five years by this well-known firm. Naturally it is different in appearance from health or comfort shoes turned out in huge quantities. Come in and let us prove to you that Modese is really "The comfort shoe that's also smart."

Little Feet Demand Extra Care

The policy of this Store regarding children's Shoes is a matter for thought. So many men and women go dragging their sick feet about for years because as children their Shoes were misfits. Little growing feet demand Shoes that will work with nature — not take toll from future years. We will not sell your child an imperfectly made or improperly fitted Shoe. Leave this grave matter in our hands. The wearing quality of our children's Shoes will quite as efficiently meet your demands.

Kills Pesky Bed Bugs P. D. Q.

Just think, a 35c box of P. D. Q. (Pesky Devil) kills a million bed bugs, roaches, fleas or cockroaches and stops future generations by killing the eggs and does not injure the clothing.

Liquid fire to the bed bugs is what P. D. Q. is. Bed bugs stand no good chance of a survival in a family that uses P. D. Q. to keep their beds clean and their clothes fresh. P. D. Q. can also be purchased in solid form, in a small box, for 10c.

mined one of the immortalizing of the same two favorites by Chuck and Zimbalist, the sweet notes blending so harmoniously and beautifully.

For an encore, Mr. Matthews sang eight songs of his own composition. As he humorously explained, "I sing them because I can get no one else to sing them." But that fact will not remain true hereafter, for many a person left the church whistling the strains of one of these songs.

The list follows: "And I Don't," "Steamboat," "Two Little Worms," "Home Like," "The Old Ocean," "The Hen," "Jonah," "The Bridge," "Mr. Jenkins then sang, "Three for Jack," and for an encore, "My Linda Lou."

Introducing the famous trombone of Homer Rodenhaver, Sunday's famous chorister, Mr. Jenkins played a number of popular melodies and asked the audience to join with him. Closing this attractive part of the program, he played, "The Rosary," and "My Old Kentucky Home."

In his work on the trombone, Mr. Jenkins showed to his Portsmouth friends a talent which they did not know he possessed, and he handles Rody's trombone like a veteran.

Mr. Matthews, introducing a classical atmosphere into the program, played a Nocturne and "The Awakening of the Lion," by De Konstl, court pianist of Germany, two selections which were extremely well received.

After these selections, Mr. Matthews called from the audience Mr. Thompson and presented him to the congregation.

A descriptive selection, "In a Motion Picture Show," played by Mr. Matthews, won great favor. The "whole show" was there, from the opening "shot" of the heroine to the final closeup and wedding bells.

Mr. Jenkins then sang, "The Blind Man," and "The Living God," and for an encore, "Little Fellow With His Mamma's Eye."

Perhaps the most appreciated part of the program was the opportunity to sing again with Mr. Jenkins the old songs of the New Crusade.

The audience chose these selections and many old favorites rang to the rafters: "I Will Rest Beside the Mountain," "Love Opened Wide the Door," "Sweeter Than All," "Since Jesus Came Into my Heart," and others. Elmer Fetter, leader of the First Baptist choir, was called to the platform and sang, "A Star in the Cloud I See" and a sweet little Miss helped out with "Love Opened Wide the Door," by singing as only a little tot can sing.

"The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and other favorites with perodies were also sung.

Mr. Thompson sang, "Brighten the Corner Where You Are," in Danish. Mr. Matthews sang it in French, and Mr. Jenkins in English. Then the three of them sang it together, all three languages blending. Any way the harmony was beautiful, and the song was certainly appreciated.

Closing, Mr. Jenkins sang "Home-coming" and the great audience once more said, "An Encore." To Walter Jenkins with an oft expressed "Come again, and bring your friends with you."

The piano for the evening was the one which B. D. Ackley made famous at the recent crusade meetings, and was furnished by Floyd E. Stearnes of the Baldwin Piano Co.

How Much Do You Walk?

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The average housewife walks from 10 to 15 miles every day while going about her household duties.

This was announced by a group of farm wives in Ohio who have been wearing pedometers to determine the number of miles covered by a housewife daily.

Many housewives in Ohio are studying labor-saving in the kitchen under the guidance of the state agricultural extension service.

One efficiency student reported that, with the children running the errands and with the kitchen arranged according to convenience, she could do her daily house work and only walk four miles.

Lifting Church Debt

At the official board meeting at Allen Chapel church last night, the team captains raising money for the church debt reported $500 raised toward the mortgaged indebtedness of the church. Of the $500 Mrs. Callie Banks raised $275 and John W. Evans $225. The payment of the $500 reduces the debt to $3,500. On July 9 a big rally is to be held at the church when an effort will be made to raise $2,500 needed to pay on a note of $3,000.

New Boston Firemen To Get More Pay

Ordinances granting the fire chief and firemen of the New Boston fire department an increase in salary, was passed last night at the semi-monthly Council session. The increase does not become effective until July 1st, when the firemen start their new terms. They petitioned several months ago for an increase in pay, but at that time it was found it could not be made during the term of office.

The new salary ordinance for the fire department is patterned after the Portsmouth fire department payroll ordinance, length of service, determining amount of salary.

After July 1, Fire Chief Charles Sims will receive $1800 instead of $1500 per year.

The four firemen, although several are starting their second year terms, will begin on the new schedule of $1500 per year for the first year. This is an increase of $300 over what they receive now. The schedule provides for an increase to $1020 for the second year of service and $1080 for the third year.

Mayor W. E. Newberry reported a total of $2,010.30 collected in fines, fees and licenses during May. This is the largest sum ever collected by the village mayor.

A resolution was adopted declaring it necessary to improve Taft street. Plans are to be drawn to have the street paved.

Rev. T. C. Watts and Ewing Cooper of the M. E. church, were present and discussed with Council the matter of having a fire escape over the sidewalk when the new M. E. church is built. The matter was referred to the street committee.

E. D. Funk, who has a service station at Rhodes and Ohio avenue, was granted permission to erect overhead framework over the Rhodes avenue sidewalk in front of his place of business.

ider, Prince K, and Startle, which went to the post in Saturday's Kentucky Handicap at Churchill Downs for a distance of a mile and a quarter. Of today's fifteen starters, Audacious carries top weight at 120; Black Servant 120, and Chatterton 109 pounds.

MISS ROBINSON WINS TENNIS HONOR

The final match in the Portsmouth high school girls' tennis tournament was played Monday afternoon at Mount Park, when Virginia Robinson won in two straight sets from Elizabeth Wycoff, by scores of 6-4 and 11-9. Both were close and hard fought, especially the final set which required 20 games before it was decided. Miss Robinson is a member of the Junior class, and Miss Wycoff a member of the Sophomore class.

SOCIETY

Mr. Roger Selby proved himself a genial host on Monday afternoon and evening when he entertained the members of the Portsmouth Reading Club for their last meeting of the season at his picturesque and beautiful new bungalow which is ideally located at the top of the thickly shaded hill above "Poplar Lodge," the summer home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Selby, and which might well be named "Wild Woods."

The members motored out early in the afternoon, and although the day was one of the hottest of the season the shady bungalow afforded a cool retreat until late in the evening.

At six o'clock an elegant picnic dinner was served on the spacious veranda and later the guests adjourned to the west porch where a view of the surrounding hills and valleys is commanded, and where they spent some time drinking in the gorgeous panorama. Out across the valley could be seen the new Country Club grounds and the new golf links with its mighty waves of beauty and glancing a little farther could be seen the beautiful evening sunset in all its majesty and splendor. There was no set program for the meeting, the members enjoying a delightfully informal evening before adjourning until next fall. Those participating in this wonderful outing included: Dr. W. D. Tremper and niece, Mrs. Louise Erdman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Bannan and daughter, Edith Bannan, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. John Randolph Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton M. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Coe, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Moore and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Singleton and their guest, Miss Mary Parker Singleton of Los Angeles, Calif., Rev. and Mrs. William E. Gleiser, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien M. Doty, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Williamson and daughter Helen, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Reagin and daughter, Miss Helen Reagin, Misses Gladys Evans, Ruth Thompson, Anna R. Ross, Mary K. Reed and Florence Peterson, Messrs. Roger Selby and Ben H. Dillon.

Miss Anderson Not Robbed; Impostor Tried To Defraud Local Relatives

Friends of Miss Margaret Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Anderson, of this city, will be pleased to learn that she was not the victim of robbers, as a recent cablegram from Rome, Italy, indicated.

Letters just received by local relatives show that an Italian who had secured mail sent for Miss Anderson to Rome by misrepresenting himself as her brother, had sent the cable for money saying Miss Anderson was in "dressing condition, everything all right."

Fortunately the Methodist Episcopal Mission in whose care the money was sent, refused to turn over the money to the impostor unless Miss Anderson appeared, and when he could not produce a passport, he was placed in jail, where he now languishes.

The Italian, who evidently had ascertained in some secret manner that a Miss Anderson was to come to Rome, went to the Methodist Mission and said he was William Anderson and asked for mail. He was told there was no mail for him, but there was mail for a Miss Margaret Anderson. He said she was his sister, and was given the mail. He evidently read the letters, and then came back and showed money from the mission to send the alarming cable to Portsmouth.

As he had claimed to be an American when $300 was sent by wire the Mission people asked to see his passport. Of course he could not produce one, and neither could he produce a Miss Anderson. As a result he was arrested and put in jail.

When Miss Anderson arrived in Rome some time later she went to the Mission and was given the money which Portsmouth relatives had wired to her. That was the first she knew of the attempt to defraud her relatives and of the alarm that had been caused by the bogus cablegram.

Miss Anderson is now in England, on her way home and is expected to arrive here in about two weeks.

To Continue Credit Rating Bureau

At the regular session of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors this afternoon a decision was reached in the matter of continuing the credit rating bureau. A happy solution was reached when a plan was discussed whereby merchants and those receiving the added service of weekly reports, etc., will pay a $25 membership fee instead of a $125 membership fee. The plan also calls for an increased service.

(BY DOLLY WISE)

"Be it ever so humble, there is no place like home." Has been changed this week to read "how cozy and comfortable are the three Beautiful Homes." At least that was the sentiment expressed Monday afternoon and evening by the thousands of people who took advantage of "Home Beautiful" week, to visit the three handsomely furnished homes prepared for the occasion by the enterprising merchants of Portsmouth.

"Home Beautiful" week, which is a national event, opened in Portsmouth Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and will continue throughout the week in order to give the residents of the city and vicinity an opportunity to visit them and get ideas on how to furnish and beautify their own homes.

One of the homes selected for this purpose is the W. W. Bauer property, located at 922 Second street. This is an ideal downtown location and is furnished throughout in exquisite taste, every article being placed there by the various merchants of the city. The interior and exterior arrangement is most attractive in its appearance, and offers many advantages over the ordinary house, and the furnishings add greatly to the charming effect.

The other two homes are ideally located on the beautiful Hilltop. The Stockholm property stands out majestically on "Beechwoods Heights," overlooking the city, and commands a panoramic view of the Kentucky hills and the great Ohio and Scioto valleys. The furnishings of this house will have to be seen to be appreciated; as everything from the dear little nursery on the second floor to the immaculate white enamel kitchen is comfort personified. There are four bed rooms on the second floor of this commodious home, and each one prettier than the next one. The dining room, living room, and beautiful sun parlor with its up-to-date furnishings are about as complete and cozy as one could wish or imagine. The draperies in this home are especially beautiful, each one being different and each one harmonizing with the furnishings of the room to perfection.

The third home is located at 1036 Twentieth street, right near Lincoln school. This home is also ideally located and commands a view of the picturesque Scioto valley, from the front, and the beautiful Kentucky hills from the cozy and comfortable sun parlor or sleeping porch on the south side. This house is owned by Charles V. Wertz and the interior arrangement is also cozy and comfortable. There is a large living room, kitchen, breakfast room and lavatory on the first floor, while the second is nicely arranged with two bed rooms, bath, and the dearest little nursery that can be found anywhere. The furnishings are in perfect taste callers was the many electric fans placed throughout the house for the benefit of the many callers. At each house there is a reception committee, who extend cordial greetings to all visitors as well as conducting them throughout the various rooms and explaining the arrangements and answering any questions that they might be asked.

Two Generations of Service

Many a grandfather can easily remember the early tank wagons of The Standard Oil Company (Ohio). These venerable forerunners of the modern motor tank would be far from adequate today. Yet the service they rendered met the needs of that early period uncommonly well and soon built a wide and lasting popularity.

Today the service of this Company is State-wide. Tank wagons and trucks running out from 300 convenient bulk stations serve every village and farming community. And more than 400 automobile service stations are operated in 150 Ohio cities to meet the motorists' needs.

Today Red Crown Gasoline, Polarine Motor Oils and Greases and other Standard Petroleum products are the best that over fifty years of experience have taught us how to produce.

We have the equipment, we have the refining ability—and our record shows that we have the will to meet modern day needs as fully as we have met those of the past.

5 Grades Polarine Motor Oils

Polarine Motor Oils are supplied in five grades to insure correct lubrication of every type of motor. Polarine Transmission Lubricants and Greases provide perfect lubrication of all transmission units. And the Polarine Chart of Recommendations is a quick, sure guide to the proper grade for every part of your car. See the Polarine Chart at any Standard Service Station—or at any store or garage where you find the Polarine sign.

Anderson Bros. Co. Employees Enjoy Banquet ; Plan For Sales Drive

As a forerunner and enthusiasm maker for the big June sales at the Anderson Bros. and Company's store at Third and Chillicothe streets, a banquet was given last evening at six o'clock at which seventy-five employees gathered around the festive board. The gala affair was staged on the fourth floor of the big store.

For the coming sales contest the entire force of the store from president to janitor, are lined up in two teams, the Blues under the captaincy of Ed. Redden, and the Reds, with the personnel of the various departments pitted against each other and enthusiasm already worked up to 100 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade. It is confidently predicted that all sales records of the store will be smashed to smithereens long before our country's natal day arrives.

W. R. Anderson, president of the company, acted as toastmaster, and handled the speaking with skill and acumen. In a brief talk he congratulated the members of the company and employees on their splendid work, stating that so far as the year has advanced, it is the biggest in the history of the concern, not even excepting the heavy years of the war. May showed the largest month's business in the store's history.

Russell Anderson was the second speaker, being called on to explain the workings of the coming big sales contest. After this was done he called on the two team captains, Lon Williams of the Reds, and Ed. Redden of the Blues.

The next speaker called on was W. V. Anderson of the firm, who explained in an interesting and comprehensive manner the workings of the Interstate Retailers of which association the local company is a member.

With the ending of the serious work of the session came the indoor sports program which proved exceedingly novel and very entertaining. The first prize offered was seven cents which was quickly copied by Miss Lucille Davis, who proved the winner in the candle race. A race course was laid out and the numerous entrants were given lighted candles. The prize went to the first one making the circuit without having their light extinguished.

The hoop race came next, the two team captains being W. R. and W. V. Anderson. They chose up sides a la the old-fashioned spelling school, and beginning with the captains every member of each team had to go through a hoop—head first, feet first, or any other way—just so they got through quick. The team getting all its members through first won, and Grant Metcalf with his No. 14's pulled the hours for Warwick Anderson's side when his feet got tangled up in the hoop so long that the W. R. Anderson aggregation carried off the bacon. Each member of the winning outfit drew down a cash prize of a cent.

A team composed of L. P. Mader and Mrs. Ada Gerald won the great Roman chariot race. There were eight teams entered, the woman riding around the track in a child's express wagon pulled by a man. There were many bad spills on the dangerous curves, but the team mentioned, stuck to their sprinting so well that they easily pulled down the 11 cents each cash prize awarded to the first under the wire.

But even if Lon Williams is not a high class orator he found a contest where he shone brilliantly. In the dress and walk contest he and Miss Norma Bennett won the cash prize of a nickel each. The eight sets of contestants, at a given signal had to dress up in comic costumes of hats and coats and walk around the room, the first in winning.

One of the big hits was a cracker contest in which 20 entered. They lined up at a table and at a given signal ate three crackers each, a prize of nine cents each going to the first one that could whistle clearly after properly disposing of the hard-tack. Geo. Vaughters and W. V. Anderson won out, each being awarded the full amount of the prize. Closing up the amusement program was a jug stunt with 42 entries. The five winners, G. E. Moll, Ed. Redden, C. H. Press, L. P. Mader and E. C. Hood each pulled down a prize of four cents.

W. T. Hill, caterer, served a delightful banquet in which none of the delights customary for the inner man were neglected.

Court House

Sudbrook On Trial

Merle Sudbrook, Madison township young man, indicted jointly with Hobart Dever, for alleged maliciously injuring property by hurling stones through windows and doors of a vacant house owned by W. L. McDaniel on the night of March 12, 1922, causing an estimated damage of $30.00, was brought to trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Tuesday morning. Hobart Dever, the other defendant, now said to be working as a trainman out of Columbus, failed to appear for trial and his $200 bond may be forfeited.

Stuart and Alva Shoemaker and Cleo Allen were the principal witnesses for the prosecution. They testified that they saw the defendants bombard the house with stones which resulted in the damage complained of.

Sudbrook on the stand in his own behalf flatly denied that he or his companion, Dever, committed the offense charged, and the defense claimed that the stories told by the star witnesses for the state was only a "smoke screen" to divert suspicion towards them. The defense adduced evidence which tended to show that the two Shoemaker boys and Allen were the real offenders.

More than a score of witnesses were present to testify in the case and many other persons from that section interested in the proceedings were also in court. Attorney George W. Sheppard represents the defendant and Prosecutor Skelton appeared for the state.

Turner Brought Back

Will Turner, negro, arrested in this city several weeks ago for alleged passing raised bills, but whose case was ignored by the recent United States grand jury, was brought back to Portsmouth Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Robert Reno from Cincinnati to answer to a charge of gun toting. It is claimed Turner had a revolver concealed about his person at the time of his arrest here.

Reckless Driver Sent To Jail

Arthur Diddle, 18 years old, was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to jail thirty days on a charge of reckless driving by Squire George S. Morgan Tuesday. The charge against the young man came as the result of a couple of collisions in which the machine he was driving figured Sunday on Scioto Trail, near the Clifford water tank. It was claimed Diddle ran his car into two other machines, one of which was owned by Herman Klitch, of this city, damaging both cars considerably and the defendant was ordered to pay the repair bills amounting to $175.00.

Hudson Trial Wednesday

Goldie Hudson, well known North End woman, will be put on trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Wednesday morning on an indictment charging manslaughter in connection with the alleged unlawful killing of her lover, Thomas Cole, finding street young man, who died as the result of a wound in his head inflicted by a shot fired from a revolver in the hands of the defendant.

The fatal shooting occurred in the Hudson woman's home, 1113 Thirteenth street, early on the morning of February 23, and the defense is expected to rely on the claim that the shooting was wholly and entirely accidental. The defendant will be represented by Attorney Horace L. Small and Prosecutor Skelton will handle the case for the state.

Wets Plan New Moves

CHICAGO, June 5.—(By the Associated Press).—Local wet leaders plan three actions this week in support of Governor Smith's repeal of the New York state prohibition enforcement law, the Chicago Tribune announces today. The newspaper says that Alderman John J. Coughlin will introduce at the city council meeting tomorrow a resolution commending Governor Smith on his "courage, patriotism and love of personal liberty."

The resolution will call upon the state legislature to repeal the Illinois search and seizure act and place the state in the same position as New York in prohibition enforcement.

Next, according to the Tribune, Anton J. Cernak, president of the county board, will go to Springfield and seek to introduce a similar resolution which in addition would direct the assembly to begin a draft of an Illinois repeal.

The third move will be made by Cernak on his return here when a duplicate resolution will be presented to the county board. Since the new city council was seated, there has been test of wet and dry strength and the proposed resolution will be looked upon with unusual interest, the newspaper says.

Kirby Organizes Mortgage Co. CLEVELAND.—Josiah Kirby, former president of the Cleveland Trust company, announced that he is organizing a mortgage company to operate in California.

Selby Baseball League

Opens; Pattern Makers Win

The Selby baseball league was opened last evening at the Selby baseball field with a 7 to 4 contest between the Pattern Makers and the Lasters. A good sized crowd was on hand to witness the opening contest which proved an easy victory for the Pattern Makers with "Piggy" Burtrum on the mound. The Lasters with a couple of hits and an error or two by the Pattern men grabbed four runs in the sixth frame to save themselves a shutout. Games will be played on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

FEATURES OF YESTERDAY'S GAMES

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Brooklyn Robins, continuing the marvelous pace are tied for second place with Pittsburgh today as a result of their victory over the Pirates yesterday 5 to 3. The Brooklyn aggregation drew a half game nearer the league leading Giants as the latter team was idle.

The Philadelphia Athletics will hold reception for the western teams they found easy. The Yankees are in low spirits for the time being, losing yesterday to Washington 5 to 2, the third straight defeat.

Of the two sensation teams of the majors, Brooklyn is going better. It was the fury of its attack that won over the Pirates yesterday, for the Pirates had won 12 out of 13 games on their home lot this year and had been fairly successful on the road. The Robins were out hit but their blows were savage and timely when they meant something.

Cy Williams, leading home run hitter of the season gave the fans who stand by the Phila Quakers a thrill by walling up his 20th homer of the season which was instrumental in the Yankees' 9 to 7 win over Boston. There were three other home runs, Stuffy McInnis, Braves first sacker connecting with the bases filled.

The Cincinnati Reds continued to lose opportunities by losing to Chicago 8 to 7 in the ninth inning after they had the game won.

TRINITY TENNIS TOURNAMENT

When the Trinity tennis tournament in men's doubles opened last evening two close sets were played by Wade and Giese who won over Lauderdale and Gulkar by scores of 6-4 and 5-6.

Huggins Fails To Include Mays In List Of Regulars

NEW YORK, June 5.—Carl Mays, star of the Yankee pitching staff in 1921, leader of the American league twirlers that year, is no longer a regular.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees has definitely announced that his big four for the present will consist of Shawkey, Bush, Holt and Jones, with Penneck as next choice should any of the first named four falter.

The once famous subway artist has been relegated to the ranks of the substitutes. No doubt his main duty this year will be to act as relief pitcher. Mays with his unusual style of delivery should be a very valuable man in such a role for a few innings.

The decline of Mays is due to the loss of his fast ball. This was his big stock in trade. It dipped much after the manner of a spitball. With the passing of his fast ball Mays lost his big threat and most of his effectiveness.

Masonic Bowling League

It seems that the Play House boys are better warm weather bowlers than the Masons, the Masons being defeated by 155 pins. They just simply could not get going. It was a four-man team affair. As one of the Play House men was out of town, Capt. Grant consented to roll with four a piece, which was certainly nice of him. All the Play House boys were over 500 but one, while the Masons had two below that mark below the score.

Calvin Gray arrives in Dallas and calls at the office of Colonel Henry Nelson. Gray tells Nelson that he means to break him financially. Nelson defies Gray. Gray meets Barbara Parker, who buys land for the colonel, and he falls in love with her. Gus Briskow strikes oil and asks Gray to help the family over the rough spots. Allie, the daughter, loves Gray. Bud, the son, runs away from school and Gray follows.

Gray brings him home. Mallow, an associate of Gray, tells Gray that Bud is in the hands of an adventuresome man and that he knows her son.

Gray divorces him. Mallow says she was square. Like most of those "come-ons" she'd how dare a guy that so much as looked at her. You know the kind I mean.

"And the child? Where do you suppose she keeps it?"

Mallow reflected. "The last time I saw the little cherub he was singing bass in a bellboy's quartette at Hot Springs."

"Could you get hold of this—this boy basso and bring him here without letting him or his mother know?"

"I can if he's still at Hot Springs, and I saw him there the last time I was up. The little darling got me into a crap game and ran in some shaped dice. Of course, it would cost something to get him."

"There is a thousand dollars in it if you can produce him within the next forty-eight hours."

That night was a repetition of the one before, but with variations and with trimmings. For Buddy more his "two-plat trousers" again, and this time they were loaded, hence Gray had a chance to observe him at his best—or worst.

Buddy sought Gray out in the lobby, early the next afternoon, and after a colorless greeting, said, "Would you mind coming up to my room for a minute?"

"Certainly not. I'd have looked in on you before this if I'd thought you were up."

Once inside his sparsely suite, Buddy flung himself into a chair and with trembling fingers lit a cigarette. He cleared his throat several times before he managed to say, "You don't want me to marry Arline, do you, Mr. Gray?"

"Frankly, my boy, I do not."

Briskow stirred. "Is that why you—went an' got that 'dime ring' I had made? When this queer ring—like God to me, I'd rather be like you than—well, there ain't nobody I like like I like you. You could get her away from me if you wanted to, but—wouldn't do a trick like that, would you? I was mighty happy till you came—You—got that ring with you?"

"I have it in my pocket."

"I want it," Buddy extended a quivering hand.

"I'm going to ask her to marry me today. If she won't I'm going to—"

"Will you wait forty-eight hours?"

"No."

"Twenty-four?"

"Gimme that ring!" When Gray made no move the speaker ran, as excitedly, "I'm a man."

Gray looked at the young Texan's face, flamed and his eyes glowed. "What in hell—"

He swallowed his anger, rose to his feet and made a nervous circuit of the room before coming to a pause at Gray's side. His lips were working; there was a tragic, piteous appeal in his eyes; his voice shook as he stammered, "Mr. Gray, I like you. I like you. You're kinda like God to me. I'd rather be like you than—well, there ain't nobody I like like I like you. You could get her away from me if you wanted to, but—wouldn't do a trick like that, would you? How Many Will Live?

You can count those baby chicks now and mark up a number. But counting them three weeks later may mean a very much smaller number, unless you start to feeding them right. Baby chicks' digestive systems are exceedingly delicate. Too many women feed chicks on things they think are good chick feed. As a result the loss of chicks is large!

Purina Chick Startena

(With Buttermilk)

is the very last word in a starting feed. It represents the knowledge of many years' experience in poultry feeds.

Chick Startena and Baby Chick Chow are balanced to supply just the right nourishment to baby chicks. One of Startena's principal ingredients is buttermilk, which keeps the tiny digestive systems active.

Better still, Chick Startena is guaranteed when fed as directed. You can count on more baby chicks when you start them on Chick Startena. Order for your chicks now.

REDS TOSS GAME AWAY IN NINTH TO CHICAGO CUBS

CINCINNATI, O., June 5.—The Cubs overcame a three run lead by batting Rixey and Cough for six straight hits in the ninth inning Monday and took the last game of the series 8 to 7. Kaufmann was hit twice in the early innings. Alexander went in as relief pitcher in the last half of the ninth and allowed one run. Stutz saving the game for Chicago by a fine catch of Burns' line drive. The Reds fielded brilliantly. Caveney at shortstop featuring. Now the game was played:

First Inning
In the first inning Roush loped out the yard and capped Stutz's fly, and after Hollocher slammed the sphere into right for one base. Grantman, mighty slugger, hoisted a weak one to Pinelli, and O'Farrell fanned the heated atmosphere. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning
Then tragedy transpired, the skill of Rixey being set at naught by the attack of the Cubs. Three runs resulted as three Beanelets were retired. Frisberg opened with a smash to left. Miller's huge framework and the ball rolled and Heatheote sacrificed. Pinelli to Bohne, who covered first. Then Hartnett walked, and with the bases full, Rixey deflected Kaufmann's bounce and it went for a hit, scoring Frisberg. It looked like a sure double play if Papa had not meddled with it. Stutz, some performer this boy, cracked one over third, scoring Miller and Hartnett. Rixey threw out Hollocher and Grantman waved impatiently at three batters. Three runs, three hits, no errors.

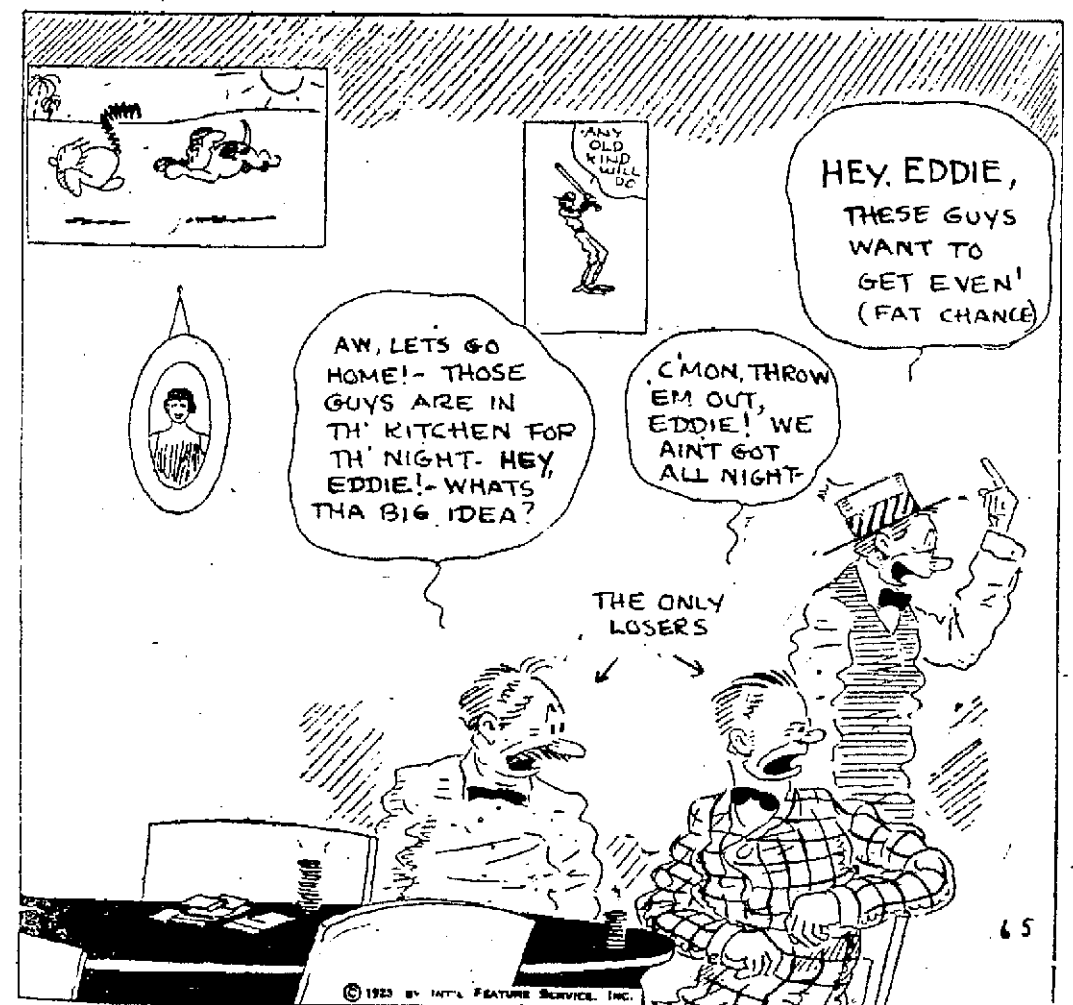

Sensing the importance of getting started, Roush intelligently singled to left. Bohne followed with a lusty swing to center, but was assassinated. Stutz to Grantman, when he tried to reach it into a double. Pinelli seemed hopelessly at three, and Caveney was clouted on the leg by a pitched ball. Then came Wingo with a lovely triple. Roush and Caveney both scampering home. While the popular applause this fine procedure, the Cubs howled loudly, claiming that Wingo was out at third. But their plaudits were futile. So was Rixey, who was tossed out at first. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Third Inning
O'Farrell outsped a boulder to short. Frisberg lifted one which Roush netted, and Miller hit into a dual killing. Bohne to Caveney to Daubert. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Burns, for the second time fanned, and Daubert hoisted one to Miller. Duncan singled over second and then stole second. After Frisberg, according to the field umpire, threw out Roush, the umpires held a conference and decided that justice had been done, so that settled that. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Heatheote singled to right, but Hartnett whanged into a double play. Rixey to Caveney to Daubert. Roush

WELL, THAT'S DIFFERENT
ARCHAEOLOGISTS are searching for the bones of Pocahontas, in an old English cemetery and incidentally digging up many graves.
The surrounding populace is deeply aggrieved and shocked at the desecration and besides calling down all sorts of curses upon the desecrators is promising the Englishman's most effective refuge, the law.
That just goes to show how different it is when it's your- self and not the other fellow. But a few months back all England was acclaimed proud of the achievement of Lord Carnarvon in discovering the grave of King Tutankhamen and opening it to the vulgar gaze of the curious. It poohpoohed the possibility of any curse descending upon him for interrupting the long repose of the Egyptian monarch. But now it is different. Some heathen invades their ancient burial grounds and he deserves all the punishment of the gods.
Aye, strange in more ways than one. Pocahontas the more or less mythical Indian Princess, has been dead full three hundred years. Her bones may or may not have crumbled into dust. That doesn't matter at all, they should be permitted to lie at rest.

AN ERROR IN BOOKKEEPING
OUR noble associates in the war, France, England, Italy and Belgium have agreed to pay us the money for our share of the expense in occupying the Rhine, whenever they can get enough out of Germany to do so.
The first failure to pay is chargeable to an error in book- keeping. Germany paid several hundred millions, but the as- sociate accountants credited it all up to indemnity, of which we would have none, instead of reimbursing these United States. It is to be supposed the next will be charged about the same way as there is no prospect of Germany ever getting her in- demnity paid, and America will be left to hold the bag unto the end. Getting the associates to acknowledge the debt is not a triumph for the administration to brag about, money is the only thing that talks here.

ALWAYS WAYS OF EVADING
THERE are other ways of bootlegging besides dealing in moonshine.
For instance there is illicit traffic in immigration, a crime which hasn't yet received a distinct name.
As is known to all the United States restricts the admission of foreigners to a small percent of the ratio by which their na- tionality is already represented in this country. That isn't say- ing, however, that no nation does not send in any more than its legal quota. Many do, but how distributed is not determined. It is estimated that every day a thousand foreigners sneak into the country by the way of Canada. It would be more accu- rate to say are sneaked in, since the traffic is carried on by regu- lar immigrant runners, organized bands, operating on the same lines as the rum runners, who undertake to get barred indi- viduals across at so much a head. A thousand a day means ap- proaching half a million in the year, a figure doubtless ex- ceeded, since thousands are bootlegged across the border at Mexico and many are smuggled in by the Gulf of Mexico coast.
John T. Adams waxes real "sassy" in his reply to those persons and papers that criticized him and his committee for issuing an article repudiating Harding's stand for the inter- national court. Truth to say looks like John T. had a chip on his shoulder and is defying Warren Gamaliel, or anybody else to knock it off if he dares.
Rev. Henry Vandyke can get himself onto the front page of some papers by standing in the pulpit and referring to Bryan as one who talks too much and reads too little, but he only makes himself pert instead of being edifying. If he could talk as well as Bryan he would think more of himself even than he does now.
Believe only half what you hear and then doubt that. Our ears were dimmed not long ago with the marvelous feat of Henry Ford in taking over the bankrupt Dayton, Toledo and Ironton railroad, raising wages and making so much money that he was asking permit to lower freight rates. The stern fact is Henry Ford has a petition with the railway commission to per- mit him to reduce the passenger service on this road, which is already pretty near worse than nothing, as it does not pay.

New York=Day=By=Day
BY O. O. McINTYRE
NEW YORK, June 5.—The biggest deals in New York are consummated over the luncheon table. Here mag- azine editor and writer plot their stories, the financier buys a western plant and even the fashionable tailor displays samples of his wares.
As a result, the luncheon hour is the busiest time of the day. Men de- sert their desks at 1 o'clock and re- main in cafes sometimes until five. People of heavy affairs have discov- ered they can mix business and gas- tronomy successfully.
There is an increasing army of business men who do not return to their office after they leave for lunch. In summer, if they have any time left after lunch, they do a round of golf, play a rubber of bridge or drop in to see the last act of a play.
It is almost impossible to see an important New Yorker in the morn- ing. There are usually men with the announcement that the man is in "conference." It is a specious term. It may mean he is chatting with his stenographer, smoking a cigar or playing solitaire.
In the Wall Street cafes and clubs there are tickers near each table so mag- nates may keep an eye on the market, eat and transact business details. That is perhaps why there is more despondence in Wall Street than any other New York area.
There are a great many men, too, who extend luncheon hour over to the tea hour by sitting around the coffee lounges. Breakfast is snatched on the run and about the only meal where one relaxes is at dinner. And if he is dining out, there is always the exciting moment wondering whether or not he has enough money to pay the check.
The professional golfist occupies a strange role at country clubs. On the links he is in supreme command. He may frazzle and even call people by their first name. Women may even walk with him in arm in arm on the course, but when the sun goes down he becomes a sort of social out- cast. He does not mingle with mem- bers of the club nor is he invited to play bridge or dance. This is dif- ficult for the American professional but the English player belongs to the traditional school of holding him- self, with a sort of pride, below his patrons.
There is a new fad of photography that is being exhibited in the Fifth Avenue galleries. People are having their hands photographed. Their fingers undressed, as their wrists. The hand is supposed to portray a delicate grace and outline of char- acter. Some of the high priced pho- tographers charge $100 a sitting—or is it holding?—for hand photographs.
Almost anything can happen in New York. Walking along Forty Second street a woman in front of me gave an excited squeal and began hopping. I saw one of her shoes had slipped over to the sidewalk. Just what a gentleman should do under those circumstances rather bewilders. I picked it up and looked a bit dumber than usual. She snatched it out of my hand. "That's mine," she ex- claimed, and handing it over to her, sneaked across the street to gaze aimlessly in a window. You know, foolish like.
There are dozens of little shops just now in Times Square that are given over to the sale of long ear- rings that ladies wear. They are get- ting longer all the time. Some of the ladies wear only one.

A Hawaiian took his son, Akana, to the theatre and the pair took seats in the front row of the gallery. The play was a thrilling melodrama of the old-style type and grew so excit- ing that the boy, leaning further and further over the rail, finally lost his balance and plunged down.
